PLANNING TO GET LIBERTY WAREHOUSE READY FOR BIG FAIR

House Committee on the Job This Morning and Expects to Have Tobacco Warehouse in Fine Condition for Tobacco Fair.

Mr. John Welch, chairman of the House committee, for the Maysville Corn and Tobacco Fair, with Mr. James Riley, who is representing Secretary George Kirk, spent most of this morning at the Liberty warehouse at Third and Commerce streets making arrangements and laying plans for the decoration of the warehouse for the big fair during Thanksgiving week. While the House committee will not likely spend as much money this year on decoration as they have done in the past, that committee expects to get the most for their money and expect to have the interior of the large warehouse turned into a thing of beauty when Governor Morrow presses the button formally opening the big annual show.

The booths about the warehouse will be just as they have always been and the next big thing of interest in regard to the fair will be the selling of the booth space and the designation of the location of the booths.

ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST. Mrs. Edward Andrews, of East Maxwell street, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her son, Mr. Thomas Pant Andrews, to Miss Kathryn Benice Hopkins, both are of San Francisco.

The bride-elect is an attractive and handsome California girl. Mrs. Andrews will go early this week to Chicago to attend the wedding. —Lexington Herald.

Mr. Andrews is well and favorably known in Maysville where he has often visited. He is a nephew of Mrs. Mary Quaintance of Fourth street.

THE CAST OF THIS COMEDY A STRONG ONE

Well Known Artists to Appear Here in Musical Comedy at the Washington Theater on Next Thursday.

"The Rainbow Girl" most popular of all musical comedies by Renold Wolf and Louis A. Hirch will play an engagement at the Washington Theater on next Thursday. This notable attraction has contributed more to the gaiety of the theater's following the past two seasons than has any other musical work, though its tour has for the most part been confined to the large cities of the east. Skillfully piloted, studded with the most exquisite of melody, with lyrics of exceeding cleverness and comedy that is a delight, it serves as a model in the art of musical comedy building. The production to be given here is absolutely new, its stage investiture and costume embellishments being of the latest modes and a pictorial beauty that appeals to the eye.

Ollie Mack, an actor and comedian of high standing, will play the role of "The Bish," and George Lydecker will be the Lord Wetherell. "The Rainbow Girl" will be sung by Katherine Shaw, whose fine soprano voice has brought her genuine distinction. Jeana Woodworth and Johnnie Jordan are two clever young women who have singing and dancing roles that they handle so cleverly, as to charm the ear as well as the eye. Joseph Daniels, Casper Bauer, Frank Farrington, Jane Burby, Margaret Merriman and Julie Eastman are other capable players that make up the roster of this joyous entertainment. The big chorus is comely, graceful and possesses good voices. The orchestra will be under the skillful direction of the Master-Director Fred Solomon.

LOCAL COURT AFFIRMED IN DAMAGE SUIT.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals has affirmed the Mason Circuit Court in case of Harm's Guaranty vs. Hord. It will be remembered that the guardian of Miss Ida May Ham brought suit against Dr. Win Hord for damages because of being struck and injured by an automobile driven by the physician. In the lower court the jury found for Dr. Hord refusing to give the plaintiff damages.

DR. E. C. DIMMITT DIED AFTER SHORT ILLNESS FRIDAY

Prominent Physician, Probably the Oldest Practitioner in This Section, Died Early Friday Night. Was Splendid Citizen.

Dr. Elijah Currens Dimmitt, prominent Germantown physician, died at his home in that town Friday night at about 7 o'clock following a short illness. Early in the week Dr. Dimmitt was stricken in his office but he seemed to improve.

Dr. Dimmitt is the last of the old Dimmitt family, and one of the country's most prominent citizens.

The "History of Kentuckians" says of him: "Dr. Dimmitt is one of the few who make a permanent home in their native town, and it has been his portion to attain a marked success and prestige in his exacting profession and he is numbered among the representative physicians and citizens of Germantown. To feel in the closing days of his long life that he has followed nature's inward laws, that he has not lived for self alone, that he has helped and uplifted many of his fellow men, these things and many more are the rewards of the career of Dr. Dimmitt, who stands in the front ranks of physicians in Germantown. No estimate too high can be set upon the work of such a man and it is to be hoped that the brief record of the main events of this kind will be an incentive to those who come after him to work well in what is before them, for it is in doing thoroughly in little as in great things that one's efforts can be crowned with success."

Dr. E. C. Dimmitt has practiced since 1858 at Germantown, with the exception of seven years spent at Washington, Mason county. He was born at Germantown December 17, 1834, the son of Robert Parker and Marie (Currens) Dimmitt.

"Dr. Dimmitt was reared in Mason county, receiving his literary education at University of Ohio, at Athens, and his medical training at the University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, class of 1857, and has practiced continuously since. He has had a long career as a physician and has always been ready to go to the aid of the suffering in rain or shine and the gratitude of those he has aided has been more precious to him than pecuniary rewards. He holds the esteem of all because of his noble and sincere character."

"Dr. Dimmitt married the daughter of Dr. Wall, of near Mayskill. She died May 21, 1910, seventy-one years, they having lived together for fifty-two years. Politically the doctor is a Democrat. In religion he is a member of the Christian church. He is a member of the Mason County Medical Society. His house is what was the Hames Savage house and was built over sixty years ago."

Dr. Dimmitt was an uncle of Mr. James B. Ross, of this city, a brother-in-law of Judge Garrett S. Wall, and an uncle of Garrett S. Wall, Vice President of the C. & O. Railway Company.

Short services will be held at the home in Germantown at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the funeral will be held at the grave in the Maysville cemetery at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Hill was a most interesting speaker and urged local growers to join the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association.

HEALTH OFFICER ADDRESSES PARENTS.

Interesting was the meeting of the First District Parent-Teachers' Association Friday afternoon. Dr. Reynolds gave a splendid address which was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the large crowd present. Many new members were enrolled and much business of importance was transacted. It was decided to begin the Penny Lunch the first of November and to have a "Grocery Shower" and entertainment on the night of October 23, for the benefit of the lunch. Lastly, a social hour was enjoyed by all present. Coffee and cakes were served. The vote was taken for the flag which was given to Miss Emma DeHoff's room for this month, having the most members present at the meeting. The next meeting will be held on Friday afternoon, November 12.

CIRCUIT COURT IS CLOSED FOR TERM; THREE SENTENCED

Judge Newell Sentences Three Prisoners—City Ordinance Does Not Apply in Inter-State Commerce.

The September term of the Mason Circuit Court came to a close this afternoon with Judge Newell having much important business on his desk which he closed out. The day was a busy one for lawyers in many cases.

Judge Newell sentenced Ed. Mason to two years in the penitentiary for housebreaking. H. M. Withrow to two years in the penitentiary for forgery and Jesse Uterback to two years for grand larceny. In the latter case Judge Newell granted a sixty day stay of execution that the case might be appealed. The other two prisoners will be delivered to the penitentiary by the sheriff within a short time.

A. L. Pollitt, indicted for forgery, was released on his own recognizance to appear in court at the first day of the December term.

In the case of Wheeler's Administrator vs. Richeson in which the plaintiff sought the sale for distribution of the Wheeler home in Fourth street and the business house in Market street recently occupied by Robert L. Hoeflich Judge Newell overruled demurrers refusing to order a sale for distribution. This case is a most tangled one and Judge Newell held that while the property might be sold for re-investment, it could not be sold for distribution.

In the case of Emden vs. The City of Maysville, appealed from the City Court, which involved the city's ordinance requiring license for soliciting orders, Judge Newell held up his final decision until he could see certain papers in the hands of Chief of Police Ort, who was out of the city today. Judge Newell has ruled however that the ordinance cannot apply in a case of inter-state commerce, which would indicate that the city will probably lose the case as Emden's firm is an Ohio concern.

Pilot and Mechanic Come To Ground Lighting in Cemetery at Barbourville.

The machine, though blazing, was directed downward in a spiral glide, both men jumping clear of it just before it touched ground.

Captain Beavers and Mr. Connolly are members of the Barbourville Aero Club.

YOUTHFUL USER OF REVOLVER RELEASED IN JUVENILE COURT

Russell Shelton Who Shot and Wounded Irene Tolle Is Released By Judge Purnell—Case Does Not Come To Trial.

The trial of Russell Shelton, sixteen years old, who shot and wounded twelve-year-old Irene Tolle several days ago, was called before Judge H. P. Purnell in Juvenile Court this afternoon but before the case was entered upon Judge Purnell, County Attorney W. H. Reese and the mother of the wounded girl held a conference in Judge Purnell's private office and within a short time, Attorney A. D. Cole, who represented Shelton, was also called.

Although the particulars of the conference was not given out, those who were closeted soon called Shelton and his father and Judge Purnell in a short time released the boy and allowed him to go.

It is understood an agreement was reached that young Shelton will pay the expense of the little girl's illness. There was no malicious motive for the shooting and while there was some little difference in the statements of the eye witnesses, it was learned by officials that Shelton did not shoot the little girl on purpose. The wounded girl is improving very satisfactorily and was able to be in court this afternoon.
